Many of our customers have requested sample-size packages that replicate the look and prestige of their full-size tubes and bottles. Telmark's miniatures can assist marketers in maintaining and enhancing brand recognition throughout the entire product line from full size container to sample.

Foil pouches, saran dispensers and thermoforms often do not provide your promotions with the style and continuity that miniatures can accomplish. An independent 2-year survey has concluded that samples replicating the primary packages, promote retail sales up to 40% more than other sampling methods.

Telmark offers several different styles of miniature tubes and bottles ranging in fill size from 2ml to 30ml (1 fl. oz.). We also make available to our customers the option of including our high-speed contract filling services that insure the most cost-effective finished package. Furthermore, we can fulfill these filled miniatures into a wide variety of secondary packages such as folded cards, display cartons, dump display bins, blister packs and many others.

In addition to sampling, our customers have used miniatures in hair-care kits, skin care regimens, GWP's, and anywhere else that small fill quantities of product are required.
